Thanks Vijay!

Again, we need to make sure this arrives to Agraform by the end of October or else we will not make all of it on time to sell in December,

Brian,

Astec has confirmed they will deliver the product within 3 weeks, we plan to ship mid September so no reason why it can not arrive end October.

I am not satisfied with Azoxy prices being offered by Zenith and am still negotiating it I hope it to be below 29/kg and will settle it within this week and revert.

Regards

Vijay

Excellent!

Astec it is.

As previously mentioned, my only concern is timing.

Please do whatever you can to get both technicals shipped as soon as possible.

If the goods do not arrive until late October and Agraform has any issues, we may not get all the material produced prior to the end of the year,

Brian,

Sorry, I made a mistake I my earlier e mail, price from Astec is 15.2/kg for 95% and from Seven c is 15.8/kg for 95% both on 90 days basis, further buying from Astec will allow us the benefit of 6.5% import tax.

Hope its clear.

Regards

Vijay,

Astec's Propiconazole Technical is only 95% whereas Seven Continents is 96-98% based on price.

Please provide an apples to apples comparison on price without consideration of the GSP benefit to us.

Listed below are the quantities of both technical that we will need to arrive to Agraform by mid-October and no later than November 1st:

Azoxystrobin Technical 28MT from Zenith

Propiconazole Technical 24MT from Astec or Seven Continents based on price and required delivery date.

Thanks and let me know if you have any other questions,

Brian,

As we have 6.5% duty advantage from India, I think it makes all the sense to import Propiconazole tech from India, there price is equally competitive if not better and I do not see any problem on delivery if informed in time now.

Pls let me know the quantity required ASAP as I assume it will required to be shipped by sept middle.

Vijay,

We need to start planning for both our Azxoy and Prop Technicals for this upcoming campaign.

To make it quicker and easier I think both should come from China unless you think Astec can deliver the Prop technical on time to meet this tolling slot.

Please let me know your thoughts.

Thanks,

Subject: Fall Azoxy Run

Hi Brian,

Just want to confirm that we do have a train available for the Azoxy (10-20k gal) & Azoxy/Prop (30k gal) this fall.

Campaign target window: Start mid to late October and be complete by early December. (Back to Back runs with partial wash in between, same as last time)

Feel free to move forward in securing the tech & raw materials.

Special Note: Please call my cell when you get a chance, I have a quick question regarding registrations.

Thanks,
Ron
